TLMA Member Update - December 2025

As we close out 2025, I want to take a moment to reflect on what has been a busy and impactful year for TLMA and our members.

We began the year with the 89th Legislative Session, where TLMA made some of the most meaningful progress in recent years toward addressing inactive well issues. In addition, we actively engaged on produced water policy, mineral ownership protections, property rights, and a significant volume of additional legislation impacting land and mineral owners across Texas. While we are proud of what was accomplished, we also recognize that there is still important work ahead. As the industry continues to evolve, so too does public policy—and TLMA remains committed to protecting your rights and property interests, no matter the circumstances.

While legislative activity often moves quickly, the judicial landscape progresses at a slower pace. We continue to closely monitor relevant cases and will keep members informed as developments occur.

We anticipate the RRC will begin rulemaking on issues that will impact our members and will closely monitor to engage when needed.

We are also continuing to update the TLMA website with new and helpful resources for our members. If there are topics you would like to see addressed or suggestions you have for additional content, we welcome your input.

I hope you had a wonderful and restful holiday season spent with family and friends. As always, it is an honor to serve as Executive Director of the Texas Land & Mineral Owners Association. I look forward to all that 2026 has in store and am confident it will be a great year ahead.

Sincerely,
Jennifer Owen

TLMA WELCOMES NEW CHAIRMAN

Effective January 1, Trey Scott assumes the role of Chairman of TLMA. Trey most recently served as Treasurer of the association and has been a TLMA member since 2002. He began serving as a District Representative in 2010 and joined the Board of Directors in 2019. We are grateful for his continued leadership and dedication to the association.

We also extend our sincere appreciation to Tom Daniel for his service and leadership over the past two years as Chairman. His commitment and guidance have been invaluable to TLMA.
