89th Legislative Session Begins

On Tuesday, January 14, after the swearing in of the members-elect of the 89th Legislature including 32 new Representatives and 3 new Senators, there are now 20 Republicans and 11 Democrats in the Senate and 88 Republicans and 62 Democrats in the House.

As mentioned in the past, the only bill that the Legislature must pass is the budget. However, there will be thousands more that progress through the legislative process.

Governor Abbott is expected to release his list of emergency items in. These items are exempt from the constitutional timelines allowing for immediate debate on both the House and Senate floors.

The pace of the session is substantially faster than it has been in years past, especially in the Senate. The Lt. Governor announced committee assignments for the Senate in the first week of the session. The House elected a new speaker (required on day 1). The House passed rules, and Speaker Burrows will announce committee assignments for the House in the coming weeks.

The first legislative deadline is the bill filing deadline Friday, March 14, the 60th day of the legislative session.

We will continue to provide updates monthly by email as well as on our 89th Legislative Session webpage.

Our first bill list is available! You can see the bills we are tracking and monitor their progress through the process. If you have questions about any bills, please email info@tlma.org.

House of Representatives Speaker Race

Following the most contentious speaker race in recent years, the House of Representatives elected Representative Dustin Burrows (R-Lubbock) as Speaker of the Texas House. He defeated Representative David Cook (R-Wichita Falls) and Representative Ana Maria Ramos (D-Richardson) in two votes.

Texas House Passes Governing Rules

At the start of each legislative session, the Texas House must pass a Housekeeping Resolution that sets the rules for how the chamber will operate for the next two years. Coming into this session, the major rule change push was to ban committee chairs that are of the minority party. After a delay due to the snow storm and a few fireworks, the House passed the Housekeeping resolution in a vote of 116 ayes, 23 nays, and 1 present not voting (Speaker Burrows).

Below are the major changes to the rules:

1. Each chairman of a standing committee must be from the majority party. The vice chair must be of the minority party.
2. Creates permanent standing subcommittees. These subcommittee chairmen maybe from the minority party.

Comptroller Releases Biennial Revenue Estimate

Prior to the start of the legislative session, Comptroller Glenn Hegar must release a biennial revenue estimate (BRE). The BRE is his best estimate of the amount of funds the legislature has available to spend for the next biennium. The Legislature will use this estimate while developing the budget during the legislative session. Comptroller Hegar estimates that the State will have a $23.76 billion surplus, general revenue of $176.43 billion, and $194.60 billion available for spending. However, it is important to note that the Legislature cannot spend all the funds without voting to break the spending cap.
